

COUNTY TEACHERS NEXT WEEK

Will Hold Annual Institute at Court House in Madisonville

PROFESSOR GREEN INSTRUCTOR

The Hopkins County Teachers' Institute will convene at the Court house on Monday morning Aug. 24, for its annual session. The County Superintendent has secured the services of Prof. R. P. Green, of Bowling Green, as an instructor. Prof. Green comes with the highest recommendations as teacher and institute instructor. It is claimed by those who are in a position to know that he is the equal of any educator in the state. Many of the teachers of the county have been pupils of his and these who have sat in his classes are looking forward to a most pleasant and profitable institute. Aside from the regular work of the institute there will be some special features that will prove highly beneficial to the school interests of the county.

On Tuesday, August 25, there will be a meeting of the trustees of the county. This day is set aside as Trustee Day. The superintendent has assurance that a large part of the trustees will be present on that day. He has made arrangements for Prof. McHenry Rhoades to talk to the trustees. Aside from him there will be other local speakers who will aid in making this the best day of the institute. It is to be hoped that all the trustees will take advantage of this opportunity to hear these able men. The trustee has not had the attention paid him which he deserves because of his position. It is the desire of the superintendent that as many of the patrons of the school will come out on this day as possible.

Another feature of the institute will be the exercises to be had on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock by those pupils of the rural school who have completed the common school course and who have taken and passed examinations for common school diplomas. This will be one of the pleasant features of the institute. The graduating class will consist of about thirty boys and girls. A suitable program has been arranged for the evening. This meeting is for the purpose of giving some public recognition to those young people who have done the required work in the rural schools.

The Superintendent of County Schools desires the Bee to extend to the people of Earlington and county an invitation to attend the institute. He will be highly gratified if the people will attend the trustees meeting, the graduating exercises on Thursday evening and any other meeting during the week.

GLOWING TRIBUTE

Paid to the Mine Owners and Operators
Association and its New President

MAJOR FRANK D. RASH

"Coal Age" has the following in a recent issue in regard to one of Earlington's foremost citizens and the article is reproduced in its entirety that "home folks" may know he is so highly esteemed by men who are at the head of the coal industry of Kentucky:

Over in Kentucky is a real live Mine Owners' and Operators' Association, which breathes the breath of health and progress. It owes its rapid and successful growth chiefly to its humanitarian principles.

Safety first, forbearance, power to the weak, cooperation to the strong and partiality to none are among the ingredients of the tonic which has braced the legs of this young organization for the good race. And its broad-minded policies have, mind you, marked it as a body amply fitted to keep pace with the output of the Kentucky mines, which, by the way, have pulled up their seven-leagued boots and turned tail upon their past performances.

At its annual meeting, not long since, the association cast a lingering eye over its membership with the intention of selecting a president for the coming year. The lightning of fate struck upon the unsuspecting head of Frank D. Rash, and approval echoed from the entire industry of the whole state.

Mr. Rash hails from one of the older coal fields of America, that of western Kentucky, and here it was that he gained his sympathetic training in the school of the square deal. Forebearing patience, advice that encourages appreciation of service are some of the traits which have won for him a warm place in the hearts of his men.

Graduating from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1901, Mr. Rash entered the engineering department of the St. Bernard Mining Co., at Earlington. Concentration and industry soon established him as chief engineer, from which position he became general manager. He now bears the title of vice-president and general manager.

As an expert on industrial legislation, he last spring took an active part in co-operating with the committee framing the new Industrial Compensation Act and the Kentucky Mining Laws as they now stand. These measures were adopted by the Kentucky Legislature.

Mr. Rash is also the first vice president of the Kentucky Manufacturers' and Shippers' Association, and just recently relinquished the honor of being the second president of the Kentucky Mining Institute. He is also a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, the Engineering Association of the South and a charter member of the American Mining Safety Association.

Among the most notable of Mr. Rash's contributions to the scientific press are his articles on "Forestry as Related to Mining" and "What Is Necessary to the Proper Development of the Kentucky Coal Fields."

Total.....	$49,950,000

And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of Heaven, Come and gather yourselves unto the supper of the great God;

That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.—Revelations, xix, 17 19.

GERMANY'S BATTLE ARM

Kaiser Wilhelm's apparent faith in the strength of Germany's battle arm in the contest with three mighty nations is perhaps in no small degree founded upon the wonderful German military system, the like of which the world has never seen before. The German military system is little understood in this country, where militarism is regarded as a dying relic of barbarous ages.

On January 1. of the year of his 20th birthday every male German citizen must report to the military head of his district. If not excused because of some physical defect he serves two years in the infantry or three years in the cavalry or artillery. For his services he receives a small compensation, hardly more than pocket money. Then he is transferred to the first reserve, which requires that he serve a month or two each year for a period of five years. The next five years are served in the "Landwehr," and he is required to drill at the order of the military authorities.

From the first class of the "Landwehr" the German soldier graduates into the second class, where he remains until he is 39. At that age he becomes a part of the "Landsturm," to be called out only in the event of great national need. At the age of 45 his military service ends.

The German standing army consists of about 600,000 men, and the first reserve about 1,500,000. The "Landwehr" totals 2,200,000 and the "Landsturm" brings the grand total to more than 6,000,000.

Organization details of the entire German fighting force have been worked out to such a detail that 6,000,000 soldiers can be summoned and fully equipped in an incredibly short time. Not only does such an army take the field as a thoroughly trained fighting machine, but there are munitions and supplies in the country's arsenals so that it is equipped in every detail.

WITH SOUTH AMERICA

Washington Aug. 19.—Comprehensive plans were mapped out by the Administration today for building up the American merchant marine with government money for the immediate purpose of transporting the products of the United States to the warring nations of Europe and to South and Central America. President Wilson, in consultation with Democratic leaders of the Senate and House, approved a project contemplating the expenditure of approximately $25,000,000 for the purchase of ocean going vessels, to be operated under the direction of a Government shipping board in carrying on foreign trade of the United States.

CARBONDALE FIRST ST. CHARLES SECOND

And Earlington Girl Third in Green River Contest

Contest Closes Tuesday Night at Ten O'clock and no Votes Will be Received After That Hour

ALL ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR TRIP

There are some surprising changes in the standing of the contestants in the Green River trip this week. Some of the contestants who have been holding back have voted their strength and the votes have piled up rapidly. Miss Geneva Hart of Carbondale is in the lead with Miss Mona Faull's of St. Charles second and Miss May Lillian Fish of this third, Miss Velma Morton of White Plains fourth, Miss Gertrude Overall of Madisonville fifth and Miss Mary Parker of Earlington sixth. There are only four more days until the contest is over and it is time to get busy and let no opportunity escape to secure a subscriber or renewal for the Bee. For $1.00 on subscription the contestant receives 100,000 votes and for $1.00 on job work or advertising 50,000 votes.

Ask your friends to take the Bee or renew their subscription before the contest closes and help you win the trip. Have your votes put up in neat packages with the amount marked plainly on each package and be sure to put them in the ballot box at the Bee office before ten o'clock Tuesday night August 25th. The votes will be counted by a committee of three disinterested parties and the names of the six winners will be announced Wednesday morning as early as possible, this will give ample time for the winning contestants to prepare for the trip, leaving on train 52 the next day, Thursday, Aug. 27th at 11:08. Parties who expect to go with the winners on this trip should turn their names in as early as possible as we must know not later than 9 o'clock Wednesday night. This will be an enjoyable trip as there is always a cool breeze on the river and the nights are ideal for sleeping. The price of the entire round trip, all expenses paid are $12.50 for adults and $10.00 for children sixteen years old or under.

POPE PIUS DIES AT VATICAN

Pontiff Yields to Bronchial
Attack After Brave Fight
—Grief Over War

SUPPOSED TO HAVE INTENSIFIED ILLS

Rome, Aug. 20.—The Pope died at an early hour this morning.

Grief over the war in Europe caused the Pope much depression from the first outbreak, and several days ago symptoms appeared of the old bronchial affection from which the pontiff had suffered in times past.

On Tuesday Dr. Marchisava announced that the Pope was suffering from a simple cold and that possibly complete rest for a week would restore him to his usual health. The bronchial condition spread, however, and on Wednesday it was announced that the Pope's condition was serious.

A bulletin was issued at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon signed by Drs. Marchisava and Amici, and gave the following explanation.

Grew Worse During Night
"The Pope's condition grew worse during the night. This was due to the diffusion of the bronchitis to the lower lobe of the left lung. Symptoms of heart weakness became threatening at 10:30 o'clock this morning."

Dr. Marchisava was able to leave the Vatican for a time owing to the amelioration of symptoms. He said that nothing early in the morning had indicated the grave crisis, which had come on rapidly. Shortly after he left Dr. Amici examined the patient. He explained that the sudden collapse was due to the pontiff's age and the gouty affection which always combine to give bronchial catarrh of an acute nature a most serious character.

Dr. Amici further explained that the pontiff's diminished vitality, caused by old age, rendered his illness fatal.

Ill Since War Began

The Pope's illness began almost co-incidentally with the great war in Europe. Those close to him believe that grief over the situation brought on the fatal crisis and so overwhelmed him that he was unable in his eightieth year to withstand still another attack of his old enemy, gouty catarrh.

His health has been the pontiff's lot for many years, and intermittently the attacks have been so serious that the world was prepared several times to hear of his passing. During the summer there had been numerous denials from the Vatican that his indisposition was serious. As late as August 10, last, upon the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of his coronation, Pope Pius granted numerous audiences.

Two days later it became known that he had cancelled practically all engagements. His attendants reported that he was unable to work and that he sat listless and silent for hours, evidently brooding over the great clash of arms in Europe.

Hopkins County Court

IN THE MATTER OF ESTABLISHMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF EARL-
INGTON GRADED COMMON
SCHOOL DISTRICT—
(Colored)

This being the next regular term of the Hopkins County Court after the receipt and filing herein of the petition of J. W. Bell and eleven other legal voters and tax payers within the city of Earlington, a city of the fifth class in Hopkins county, the said petition coming on for hearing it is now ordered by the Court that the boundary of the proposed Earlington Graded Common School District, colored, be fixed pursuant to the agreement of the County Judge, the petitioners and the County Board of Education of Hopkins County, Kentucky, as follows:

Said proposed district shall comprise and be the same as the territory embraced in the Earlington graded common school district which is identical with the boundaries of former consolidated sub-districts Nos. 45 and 48 the boundaries of each of which are as follows:

Sub-district No. 45 begins at the N. end of S. R. Nisbet's lane on the Madisonville and Earlington road; thence E. to the end of his cross lane; thence S. to the fork of the White Plains and Hopkinsville roads; so as to exclude A. J. Sisk's farm; thence with the Hopkinsville road to the crossing of the L. & N. R. R.; thence on a straight line so as to include Elias Oldham's farm and Riffs Oldham's farm; thence to include Sam and Hiram Oldham's farms; thence to the N. W. Corner of the survey of the town of Earlington; thence with said line to the N. E. corner; thence to the Thomas Davis' place and to Polk Merrill's place, including them; thence on a straight line to the beginning.

Sub-district No. 48, beginning at the N. E. corner of the corporate line of the town of Earlington; thence to Thos. Davis' place and the Polk Merrill place, excluding them; thence with the meanderings of the Hunting Branch to the Rock Ford or Clear Creek; thence to the Steve Robinson house; thence to Dock Griffin's; thence to N. W. corner of the corporation line of the town of Earlington; thence to the beginning.

The Sheriff of Hopkins County is directed to open a poll within said proposed graded common school district on Tuesday, September 8th, 1914, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal colored voters in said graded common school district on the proposition whether or not they will vote an annual tax of not exceeding fifty cents on each One Hundred Dollars of property assessed within said proposed common school district belonging to colored voters, and a poll tax of not exceeding $1.50 per capita on each colored male inhabitant over 21 years of age residing in said proposed graded common school district, being both an ad valorem and a poll tax, for the purpose of maintaining a common graded school in said proposed graded common school district and for erecting, purchasing and repairing suitable buildings therefor if necessary. The court finds as a fact that the proposition to establish said graded common school district and school has been and is approved in writing on the petition by Paul M. Moore, the trustee of the common school district and the only common school district included within or affected by the boundary of the proposed graded common school district, and has been approved in writing on said petition by the County Superintendent of Common Schools; that the proposed school house in said district is the school house in present use by the Earlington colored school district within the city of Earlington, with the lot upon which the same is situated, the same being located one block west of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad and one block north of Main Street in Earlington, Kentu-ky, and that on point of the boundary of said proposed graded common school district is more than 2 1/2 miles from the site of said proposed school house.

It shall be the duty of the County Court Clerk of Hopkins County to give to the Sheriff of said County a certified copy of this order as it appears on the order book, within ten days after the entry thereof, and it shall be the duty of said Sheriff to have this order published in the "Earlington Bee" published at Earlington, Kentucky, for at least 20 days before the election, and also to advertise the same by printed or written hand bills posted at five conspicuous places in said proposed graded common school district for the same length of time, the said notices to be written and posted within ten days after receiving this copy of this order and at least 20 days before said election. Said Sheriff shall appoint a Judge and a Clerk of the said election, who shall take and subscribe an oath for the faithful performance of their duties respectively, on the day set apart for the election said officers shall open a poll and shall propound to each colored voter who shall vote the question "Are you for or against the graded common school act" and his vote shall be recorded for or against the same as he may direct. At the same time and place there shall be elected a board of five trustees for said graded common school district by the same persons who vote for the election of the tax, and the five persons receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected trustees. Said officers of election shall certify to the court the result of said election as soon as the same is ascertained, and this cause is continued.

Copy attest:
JNO. G. SALMON, Clerk.

Notice is hereby given that I, as Sheriff of Hopkins County, Ky., will on Tuesday, September 8, 1914, cause a poll to be opened and an election to be held at the colored public school building in the city of Earlington, Kentucky, for the purposes named in the foregoing judgment and order of the Hopkins Co. Court.

Given under my hand as Sheriff, Hopkins County, Ky., this 2nd day of July 1914.

TOM LOGAN,
Sheriff Hopkins County.

A Prayer for Aircraft

Minneapolis Journal says: "It is reported that the German emperor recently ordered the inclusion in the German Lutheran liturgy of a special petition for airships and aeroplanes in the imperial service. The prayer as altered reads: 'That it may please Thee to protect the royal army and all the imperial forces by land and sea, especially also the ships upon the sea and all the aircraft now voyaging.'"

The Secret of Lonesome Cove

By
Samuel Hopkins Adams

Copyright, 1912, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"I haven't got any gun."
"I hear you say it! Remember, mine is pointed at your stomach."
"Correct place," approved Kent, quietly shifting his weight to his left foot. "It's the seat of human courage. Well!" as Schlager tapped pocket after pocket without result, "you can't say I didn't warn you. Now, Frank!"

With the word there was a sharp spat as the heel of Kent's heavy boot, flying up in the kick of his own devising, caught the sheriff full on the wrist, breaking the bones and sending the revolver a-spin into the darkness. As instantly Sedgwick struck, swinging full armed, and Schlager went down, half stunned.

"Pin him, Frank," ordered Kent in a low tone.

But Sedgwick needed no directions, now that resolute action was the order of the moment. His elbow was already pressed into the sheriff's bull neck. Schlager lay still, moaning a little.

"Good work, my boy," approved Kent, who had retrieved the revolver. "Who clubbed me?" groaned the fallen man. "I didn't see no third feller. And what good's it going to do you anyway? There you are, and there's the robbed grave. Exaggerated by assault on an officer of the law," he added technically.

"That is right, too, Kent," added Sedgwick, with shaking voice. "Whatever we do, I don't see but what we are disgraced and ruined."

"Unless," suggested Kent, with mild toned malice, "we rid ourselves of the only witness to the affair."

A little gasp issued from the thick lips of Len Schlager. But he spoke with courage and not without a certain dignity. "You got me," he admitted quietly. "If it's killing, why, I guess it's as good a way to go as any. An officer murdered in the discharge of his duty."

"Not so sure about the duty, Schlager," said Kent, with a change of tone. "But your life is safe enough in any event. Pity you're such a grafter, for you've got your decent points. Let him up, Sedgwick."

Relieved of his assailant's weight, Schlager undertook to rise, set his hand on the ground and collapsed with a groan.

"Too bad about that wrist," said Kent. "I'll take you back in my car to have it looked after as soon as we've finished here."

"I s'pose you know I'll have to arrest you, just the same?"

"Don't bluff," retorted the other carelessly. "It wastes time. Steady! Here comes the rest of the party."

Across the moonlit lawn moved briskly the spare, alert figure of the owner of Hedgerow house. His hand grasped a long barreled pistol. He made straight for the grove of graves. Within five yards of the willows he stopped, because a voice from behind one of them had suggested to him that he do so.

"I also am armed," the voice added menacingly.

Hesitancy flickered in Mr. Blair's face for a brief moment. Then, with set jaw, he came on.

"Two men of courage to deal with in a single night. That's all out of proportion," commented the voice with a slight laugh. "Mr. Blair, I really should dislike shooting you."

"Who are you?" demanded Mr. Blair. "Chester Kent?"

"What are you doing on my property at this hour?"

"Digging."

"Ah!" It was hardly an exclamation; rather, it was a contained commentary. Mr. Blair had noted the exhumed casket. "You might better have taken my offer," he continued after a pause of some seconds. "I think, sir, you have dug the grave of your own career."

"That remains to be seen."
"Schlager! Are you there?"
"Yes, Mr. Blair. They've broken my wrist and got my gun."

"Who are they?"
"Francis Sedgwick is the other, at your service," answered the owner of that name.

An extraordinary convulsion of rage distorted the set features of the elderly man.

"You?" he cried. "Haven't you done enough without this?"

CHAPTER XV.

The Turn of the Game.

STRICKEN with amazement at the hatred in the tone, Sedgwick stood staring. But Kent stepped before the advancing man. "This won't do," he said firmly. "We can't any of us afford killing."

"I can," contradicted Mr. Blair.

"You would gain nothing by it. If one of us is killed the other will finish the task. You know what I am here for, Mr. Blair. I purpose to open that coffin and then go."

"If you shoot," pointed out Kent, "you will rouse the house. Is there no one there from whom you wish to conceal that coffin?"

The arm rose higher until the muzzle of the pistol glared like a baleful, lusterless eye into Kent's face. Instead of making any counter motion with the sheriff's revolver the scientist turned on his heel, walked to Sedgwick and handed him the weapon. "I'm going to open the coffin, Frank," he announced. "That pistol of Mr. Blair's is a target arm. It has only one shot."

"Open your eyes! Look! Look!" cried Kent.

"True," put in its owner, "but I can score 120 with it at a hundred yards."

"If he should fire, Frank, wing him. And then, whatever happens, get that casket open. That is the one thing you must do—for me and yourself."

Sedgwick stepped to within two paces of Blair. "Blair," he said, with a snarl, "you so much as think with that trigger finger and you're dead!"

"No; no killing, Frank," countermanded Kent. "In his place you'd perhaps do as he is doing."

Who can Doubt Sworn Testimony of Honest Citizens

Sometime ago I began the use of your Swamp-Root with the most remarkable results. For years I was almost a wreck and was a great sufferer. The doctors who treated me made me believe that my great sufferings were due to female trouble. I was so bad at times I would faint away and had sinking spells. Finally a new doctor was called in and he said that I had kidney trouble and gave me medicine, of which I took several bottles. I obtained some relief from this but I was getting weaker all the time; I could not sleep and suffered so much pain that my husband and children had to lift me in and out of bed. After this time two friends sent me word to try Swamp-Root, which I did, and I am glad to state that the first dose gave me great relief. After taking the third dose I was helped into bed and slept half of the night.

I took several bottles of Swamp-Root and I feel that I owe my life to this wonderful remedy. The two family doctors said that I could not live three months. I would have to be helped in and out of bed ten or twenty times every night. After taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root for two days I was entirely free from getting up and could sleep soundly.

New York—"It is as though the continent of Europe had sunk in the seas," said the head of a foreign house with American branches, which does a business of between $80,000,000 and $90,000,000 a year. "We can neither collect our bills nor pay them. Financially we were never in better shape but if we had all the money in the world we could do nothing. It is a terrible thing to see the wheels of a great commercial enterprise that has been built up and running for years stop overnight, and to have to sit idly by, unable to lift a finger to start them moving again."

PUBLIC OPINION AGAINST KAISER

Americans Sympathize With the German People and Say, "Thou Art The Man."

Boston—Ex Governor John D. Long writes to the Herald on the state of American public opinion, regarding Germany's relation to present European war:

"There is a very clear distinction between the feeling show toward the German people and the German emperor. Towards the former there is nothing but sympathy and cordial regard. Nobody forgets the splendid contributions of German science and literature and the great extent among us of German citizenship, so industrious and exemplary and in all our own exigencies so helpful.

"What seems especially censurable is that, so far as appears, the main responsibility for the war is on the German emperor. Public opinion seems to point to him and say: 'Thou art the man.' It cannot seem to escape the conviction that Austria never would have dared to provoke war with Russia and Serbia, especially when the later complied (so far as any nation could comply) with the Austrian demand, unless with the assurance of the Kaiser's help. If so, a word from the later must have resulted in arbitrament and peaceful settlement."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

3 Cents a Mile Not Unreasonable

Washington, Aug. 19.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today held that basing interstate passenger fares on three cents a mile in Arkansas, Missouri and Oklahoma was not unreasonable.

Public service commissions sought to reduce it to 2 cents.

The ruling is important as a reduction from almost all the Southern on passenger traffic rates generally.

Summer Constipation Dangerous

Constipation in Summer-time is more dangerous than in the fall, winter or spring. The food you eat is often contaminated and is more likely to ferment in your stomach. Then you are apt to drink much cold water during the hot weather, thus injuring your stomach. Colic, Fever, Ptomaine Poisoning and other ills are natural results. Po-Do-Lax will keep you well, as it increases the bile, the natural laxative, which rides the bowels of the congested poisonous waste. Po-Do-Lax will make you feel better. Pleasant and effective. Take a dose to-night 50c. at your Druggist.

Proficient.

A youthful and blushing bride reduced the aged grandmother of the man of her choice to a state of collapse last week. When asked if she could cook, she replied with simple modesty, "Not very well, but I know that you bake inside the stove and boil on the outside."—Sydney Bulletin.

Summer Coughs are Dangerous

Summer colds are dangerous. They indicate low vitality and often lead to serious Throat and Lung Troubles, including Consumption. Dr. King's New Discovery will relieve the cough or cold promptly and prevent complications. It is soothing and antiseptic and makes you feel better at once. To delay is dangerous—get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery at once. Money back if not satisfied, 50c. and $1.00 bottles at your Druggist.

Invigorating to the Pale and Sickly

The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, BROOK'S TASTELESS BLOOD PURIFIER, is a most valuable remedy for all cases of blood poisoning, skin diseases, and general debility. It is a quick and safe cure for diarrhoea. Since then no one can sell me anything said to be 'just as good.' During all these years I have used it and recommended it many times, and it has never disappointed any one." For sale by all dealers.

The Twenty Year Test.

"Some twenty years ago I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Geo. W. Brock, publisher of the Enterprise, Aberdeen, Md. "I discovered that it was a quick and safe cure for diarrhoea. Since then no one can sell me anything said to be 'just as good.' During all these years I have used it and recommended it many times, and it has never disappointed any one." For sale by all dealers.

Tin as a Nuisance

Tin of good quality is regarded as a nuisance in some parts of Alaska, where it is thrown aside by the gold miners. In the richest spots as much as half a pound of tin to the man is reported, which at the present price of the ore would give the gravels a value, not allowing for costs of mining or transportation, of $18 to $20 a yard, according to essay.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WAKE UP!

You Are Getting Left!

A live and progressive merchant finds it advisable to dispose of every dollar's worth of goods in the late summer weeks. He needs the room and he needs the money for his fall stock. It is better to unload at a sacrifice than to keep working capital tied up by carrying goods over to another season.

WE'RE DOING IT NOW

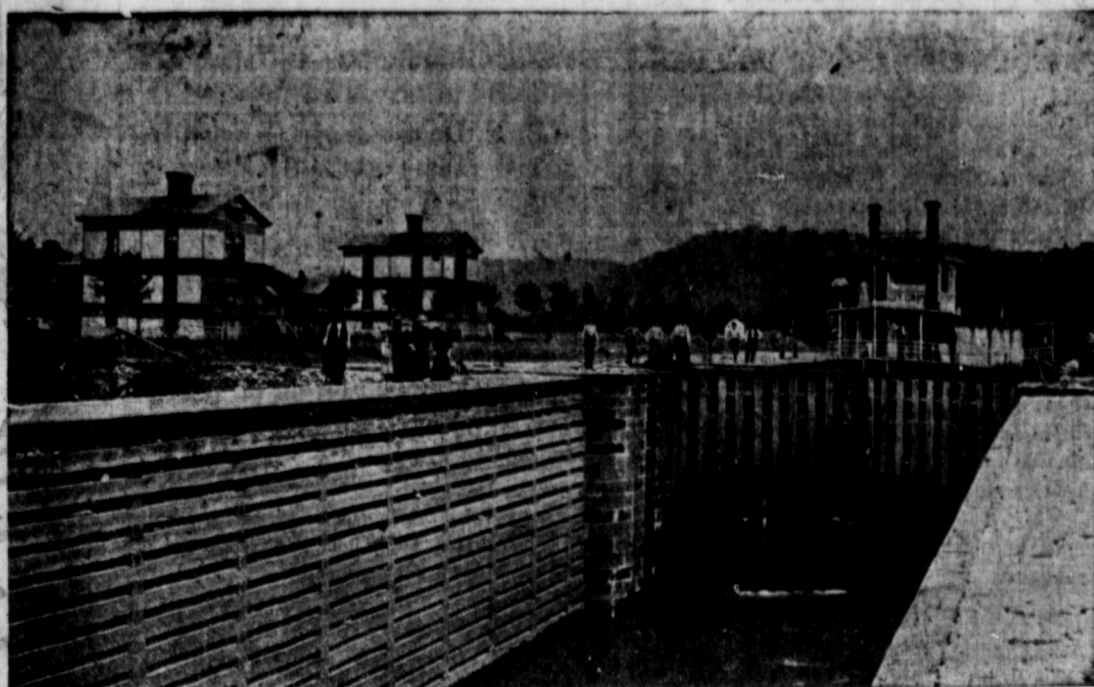

We have sold a tremendous amount of goods during the past few weeks, and are going to keep right on at it until we CLEAR OUR SHELVES. We want both the room and the money. If PRICE and QUALITY mean ANYTHING AT ALL to you, NOW IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY. First comers get the best bargains. This is the Dry Goods Opportunity of the year.
